TELEPHONE COURTESY

Sometimes, when answering the telephone, you find that the person at the other end of the line has made a mistake in the number. It may be that you are the instrument you say, "I should like to know that woman. Her voice was very pleasant, and when she found that this was not the place she was trying to get she said, 'I am very sorry to have troubled you; central must have misheard the number.'"

On the other hand, it may be that when the stranger discovered her mistake she merely hung up the receiver without a word of apology or explanation, then you go away feeling insulted and indignant. To hang up the receiver, as a way of shutting off a conversation, is quite the worst insult that can be offered to a person. It will cost you little to be courteous even to the most annoying person.—Youth's Companion. Adv.

COURT SENTENCES THREE

In the district court this afternoon Judge Averill sentenced John Murray to two months in the county jail and to pay a fine of $500; Bryan Garen was given three months and a $300 fine; Paul Johnson was sentenced to two months and a $100 fine. These three men pleaded guilty to violating the Volstead prohibition act.

ROADS TO BE IMPROVED IN THE YOSEMITE

(By Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—Government funds should be granted for the permanent improvement of roads in the Yosemite National Park, secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall declared in his annual report, copies of which were received here today.

"The Yosemite roads present a serious problem," the report said. "They are in marked contrast to the good state highways, and although much work has been done to keep them in repair, little permanent improvement is shown. The roads in the valleys should be hard surfaced, and those in the mountain sections well graded. The main trunk of the park, which is a seasonal condition during the winter season."

Secretary Fall continued earlier announcements that the number of roads in the park this year reached the total of 9,513 as against 5,830 last year.

"As proof of the great popularity of the park, about 100,000 people visited the park during the winter season," he said. "For the past several years travel in the Yosemite has reached its peak in the month of July, which has attracted at times an overcrowding of available accommodations. There are about an increase of over 40 percent alone in the number of people using the free camp grounds this year compared to last, and steps were taken to enlarge these camps and to build additional sanitary conveniences which work will continue during the winter season."

In the opening of the summer season a new sewer system will be ready for use. This system will serve our administrative buildings, Yosemite Village and the permanent camps run by the public operators, but will not care for the free public camping grounds. Next year the sewer system will be extended to include these grounds, if funds permit. At present work is in progress to improve the water system, but further improvements are needed in the future. For the first time in the history of the park visitors there were entirely relieved of the mosquito nuisance. Control work has been steadily going on for the past three years under the supervision of a team from the public health service, and finally all breeding was effectively stopped. This is a most gratifying achievement."

COMEDY PROGRAM AT BUTLER THEATRE TODAY

Lowest Prices in Town

Gareth Hughes, Metro's youthful star, proves that he is some romancer on the screen in portraying the adventures of an imaginative youth in "Garments of Truth" which will be shown at the Butler today.

The story is of a youthful villager who, finding life rather prosaic, proceeds to enliven things by inventing wonderful yarns for the benefit of the townsmen. As the village bar he finally causes so much commotion that he is sent away to be treated, and his adventures in the realm of truth, far from being a relief, lead to such complications that the village fathers are at their wits' ends until the budding romance farishes an entirely unexpected and most welcome answer. Keep your eye on this star, for he's a comer. The other picture on today's bill is a new Mack Sennett two-reel comedy, "The Cop."
